No aircraft or Soviet Air Force ground personnel were stationed at the BRANDENBURG-BRIEST (N 53/2 13) airfield. Civilian workers were engaged in reconditioning the landing field, in grading old bunkers and allegedly in constructing hangars.

☐ Comment:

It is considered credible that construction work was being done at the airfield since, according to a report of August 1949, construction workers were drafted for the airfield. The alleged construction of hangars was reported for the first time.
